Navigation has been very tedious, not to say, tiresome, the past four or five days. An inch or two of snow with ice and sleet on top of that is anything but satisfactory to locomotion—for either man or beast.

The "Weakling," the third feature of the Alice Joyce Series, will be shown at the Academy Picture Theatre Saturday, January 30. The "Weakling" is complete in itself and shows Miss Joyce in a new role.

Assessor John Marshall mourns the loss of a pocket book containing between $50 and $60. He first missed it last Thursday morning. It is a tan-colored bill book and Mr. Marshall will give $10 to the finder if he will return it.

To our young friend, Mr. E. B. Becker, who is with the Mercantile Trust Co., St. Louis, we are indebted for a copy of a pamphlet, entitled "The Federal Reserve Bank with Special Reference to District No. 8." It contains much valuable information.

This morning the venerable L. F. Quinn, who has been ill for some time, was taken to the Cadwell hospital in the Red Cross ambulance. It is the intention to have an operation performed in the hope that it may prolong his life.—Poplar Bluff Republican.

We had a thunder storm early Thursday morning of last week. There were several loud peals, and vivid streaks of lightning flashed. The thermometer was up in the thirties but that contracted to within three degrees of zero. Thunder storms are not frequent in January.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend, Mr. F. P. Hilburn, who is now located at Lewisville, Arkansas, where he is in the employ of the Cotton Belt railroad. Mr. Hilburn writes that the track is extremely soft and the weather very bad, so just at the present time life with him is rather strenuous. He promises to favor our readers with a letter descriptive of that portion of Arkansas in the near future. We shall be glad to hear from him.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. W. H. R. Brown, St. Louis, on Wednesday, January 20, 1915, at 2:30 P. M., a nine-pound daughter. All are doing well, even to "Billy." The Register extends hearty congratulations and prays that the new-comer may live and thrive, and be a source of perpetual pride and joy to the household.

Miss Mary L. Dunn, a member of the school of faculty here, was called to Gainesville, Ark., Monday, on account of the death of an uncle, F. M. Dunn. Mr. Dunn was born and reared at Chloride in Iron county. He was sixty-odd years old. His wife and eight children survive. Mrs. Maria Farris is his sister, and J. A. Dunn of Redford his brother.—Piedmont Banner.

T. E. Jones has just returned from Ironton, Mo., where he was called last week to attend the funeral of his father, Dr. Henry Jones. Dr. Jones was one of the pioneers in this vicinity, and for many years the leading physician and the recognized leader in many other respects. During his active life he accumulated much property, having retired from practice years ago, and spent the remainder of a long and useful life in his quiet home in Missouri.—Newport (Ark.) Independent.

Last Thursday Sheriff Blue arrested Mammel Brooks, A. Barnes, Geo. Bone and Jas. Russell for trespass on the land of George A. Sims. They were cutting tie timber and Sims says they refused to desist at his order. Then he sent for the sheriff, who, with his deputy, Ben Blanton, went to the land and made the arrest. The prisoners were arraigned before Squire Rasche, pleaded guilty, and were fined five dollars, each. In default of payment they were committed to the patient care of Mr. Blue.

The Arcadia Valley Business Men's League, through United States Senator Reed, has been in communication with the War Department to ascertain what likelihood there would be of securing the rifle range property, east of town, from the government, to be used in conjunction with the dam in the Shut-In as a site for the proposed State Park. The Adjutant General writes that the government does not desire to part with the rifle range property, that it may again be used as a range. It's been a long time idle. It must be nearly ten years since any troops have been here.

It is reported that we may look forward to a lively campaign this spring for the office of County Superintendent of Schools, which is to be filled at the April school meetings. Prof. B. Fox, the present incumbent, will be a candidate for re-election, but there is opposition threatening to take off his official hide. We believe this antagonism to the Prof. is the outcrop of politics in the late campaign. So far as efficiency and interest in the work goes, he has demonstrated a peculiar fitness for the office. We say this not in disparagement of any candidate who may come out against him, but because it is a generally conceded truth.—Potosi Journal.

Mr. George Stark, of Arcadia, is in receipt of the following letter from the Secretary of the Missouri State Corn Growers' Association: "At the Twelfth Annual State Corn Show which has just closed, your peck of cowpeas won first place in Class No. 35, and I am enclosing a check for $5 in payment of the premium. I congratulate you on your winning this year. In spite of the unfavorable season, we had one of the most successful shows and meetings in the history of the Association. More than 2800 visitors during Farmers' Week saw the show. I hope that we may have a good season this year, and that it will be a successful one with you. Whenever I can be of service to you in any way, I trust that you will call on me."

The following is from the St. Joseph Gazette of last Wednesday. The Miss Fleming alluded to therein is a niece to Mr. A. F. Bond, of this town: "Single handed, an armed bandit held up the office force of the Aunt Jedmond Mills company, Second and Edmond streets, St. Joseph, Mo., at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and departed with a confederate in a buggy, carrying the pay-roll, $1,028. There was not a weapon in the office. No one had any sort of chance to have done such a foolhardy thing as to brave a desperate criminal, armed and in the act of robbery. The young women deserve credit for not fainting outright. Of course they were badly scared, but Miss Fleming especially showed coolness in trying to handle what she took for a drunken intruder, diplomatically—and that very exercise of tact on her part gave her the opportunity to look closely at the bandit, and, thus, made her able to identify him after his capture by the police. Miss Fleming modestly explained that she was frightened by the appearance of the bandit. "At first," she said, "I merely thought he had been drinking and forgotten the name of some one working in the mills and whom he wanted to see. That was why, each time he insisted that he wanted 'Stollard,' I repeated carefully, 'We have no one here named William Stollard.' "It was when he came on around the desk toward where I was that I suddenly saw part of his false beard and mustache—it didn't stick to his chin and lip very well. By instinct, I imagine, I picked up the payroll box and stepped back to Mr. MacLeish's desk. Even then I didn't think it possible any one would attempt to hold up and rob the office at 2:30 in the afternoon. But when he drew the gun, I realized it. The barrel seemed pointed just between my eyes, and looked ever so much larger than it was, of course. I was dumb, and stood there dazed until he was gone—and then? Well, I guess all we girls screamed for help, and the men yelled, and everything seemed mixed up."

PERSONAL.

J. A. Reburn was here from St. Louis Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Trauernicht was in St. Louis last Friday.

Mrs. G. W. Signer of Bismarck was a visitor in Ironton last week.

Gilbert Vance of Roselle was a caller at this office last Thursday.

Mrs. H. B. Jones returned to Ironton Monday after a visit with relatives in St. Louis.

Mrs. Walter H. Fisher has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Claman, in Springfield, Mo., the past two weeks.

Miss Annie Whitworth returned to her home in Arcadia Monday evening after an absence of a week in St. Louis.

Miss Louise C. Kuhn has obtained a position as stenographer and typewriter at Jefferson City. We congratulate the young lady.

Getting ready for spring at Brown's. Big cut on many winter articles at Brown's.

Methodist Church of Ironton.

The Fort Hill Methodists, with their fraternal pastor, are to worship with us next Sunday morning. The interest of this joint Methodist Service will receive special emphasis, no doubt, by the visit and sermon of Dr. Chrisman, Superintendent of St. Louis District of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dr. Chrisman is a very able preacher, and those who hear him will not be disappointed.

The Epworth League service will be at 6:30, and the pastor will preach at 7:30 P. M.

M. M. POWERS, Pastor.

Fort Hill Church.

It was dangerously slick about Fort Hill Sunday, but fifty per cent of the Sunday School were present, and two-thirds of the regular church congregation at the morning service. There was no preaching at night.

In last week's report of the organization of the Woman's Bible Class, there was an error. Mrs. Cora Baldwin was elected vice-President instead of Mrs. Jesse Hawkins. The error was the reporter's not the REGISTER's, and the reporter begs pardon of all concerned for his carelessness.

There will be no services next Sunday morning. This is to give the members of Fort Hill congregation an opportunity to hear Dr. Chrisman at First M. E. Church. He is said to be a very able speaker. Usual services at night.

The Quarterly Meeting will be February 6th and 7th. Presiding Elder Church is expected.

Brown's annual clearing sale is now on. Do not wait too long before seeing the bargains.

Des Arc Items.

We are having some cold weather. I believe it is colder at Bunker than at Ironton. The ground is covered with sleet and snow.

There are lots of flour, corn, hay and mixed feed being shipped over the Mo. S. R. R. The conductor, Lucian Hackworth, told me they average over four cars per day. Mr. Rice, a merchant at Ironton, told me that thirty thousand dollars have been spent for feed.

The tie business is brisk. I was on the local last Monday and going in to Arcadia I saw 21 loads of ties in one train. I asked a merchant how many loads of ties come in to Ironton and Arcadia. He said, "Over 100 loads come in every day." These loads will average three dollars a load. Piedmont and Des Arc are getting a big lot of ties. Chas. Carter told me that he is having ties made and is floating them down St. Francois River. He says he uses one keg of spike nails for every 2000 ties. A big raft came to Greenville while I was there.

The Stevenson Bros. have been doing some big trading in real estate and stores. They first traded the store at Des Arc for a farm in Illinois valued at $17,000. The party that traded for the store and building brought some Jews with him and wanted to dispose of them to them. They became discouraged after a few days and sold back to the Stevenson Bros. who at this time are running the store. I understand that Judge Stevenson has been offered $24,000 for the farm. It contains 240 acres, and is worth $100 per acre. Chester Stevenson took a big hand in this trade and was very much help to the Stevenson boys.

I read a letter from Hon. C. P. Dameron, Jefferson City. He says he has talked with a number of members; they seem to oppose a further appropriation.

The trouble is that a lot of men on the roll are not entitled to a pension, from the fact some of them own farms worth several thousand dollars, but I think this matter could be adjusted by cutting out these well-to-do fellows.

J. H. Stevenson and W. T. Stevenson were in St. Louis on business last week.

Mrs. Green Brooks and children, from Annapolis, were here last week to visit relatives.

Miss Lora Tolleson, from Chloride, spent Sunday here with her sister, Miss Essie Tolleson.

Mont Stevenson was here last week to visit his mother.

Mrs. Ethel Parker came down from St. Louis to visit relatives.

Jesse Wallis was here from St. Louis on business last week.

Our revival closed here last Friday night. Large crowds attended each service. There were 37 converts, Rev. Oscar Taylor is a great revivalist. He will go to Annapolis Thursday, when he will engage in a revival there. We hope he may be as successful there in winning souls to Christ as he has been in our town. We have a new town and our good people are still feeling the effects of our great revival. A number of our people will go to Annapolis next Sunday to hear Rev. Taylor preach. They have made arrangements to have No. 4 stop for the ones who will assist in the meeting there. We hope the Annapolis people will all attend each service and that the business men there will take a stand for Christ, as they have done in our little town, as well as our neighboring town, Piedmont. As Rev. Taylor says in his sermons, religion is a "business proposition" and all business men need to have it to run a business as they should. So we are hoping and praying to hear soon of Annapolis taking the move that Piedmont and Des Arc have in a religious way.

ISAAC.

Have you tried the New drink called Cherry Chic, which can be had at the Kandy Kitchen?

Annapolis News.

We have had some cold weather, rain and snow the past week, and it is cold to-day and cloudy.

On the night of January 18th, while Mr. Crate Jackson's boy was on his way home from Annapolis with his team, at the Big Spring on the road leading to Sulphur Creek, he was held up and robbed of one dollar and ten cents, his cap, shoes, ten cents worth of plug tobacco and his handkerchief, and then told to pull out, which the young man did. He describes the boy a very small boy, with a slouch hat and a long gun. It was too dark to see whether it was a double barrel or single barrel shotgun or rifle. It was very cold and the young man was near about frozen when he pulled in to J. M. Long's home for a warm.

Times are quiet now and not much doing here. The roads are too bad to haul on, as the frozen ruts are not frozen enough to hold a wagon up, and when it breaks through the only thing to do is to dig out.

Misses Worley and Loyd were out last week making up a donation for Bro. Joseph Alcorn who holds services here monthly at the church house.

David Paris was in Ironton last Saturday to see the dentist and have a tooth pulled for his little boy who accompanied him there, and reports much colder up there than here.

James Campbell of Roselle, Missouri, was a visitor to Esquire Kitchell and wife the past week. He did not tarry long, as he had girl on the brain, and departed for home Friday morning on No. 10.

George White of St. Louis is visiting home folks near Annapolis for the first time in over one year. Do not know how long he will remain with us.

Vest Hackworth received word from Des Arc last Friday morning that his brother Richard was sick and not expected to live, and to come down at once, but found him better when he got there, and he and his family came up to Annapolis Saturday on a visit to relatives.

It is reported that Rev. Taylor of Des Arc will preach a few sermons next Saturday and Sunday for Annapolis if it does not interfere with any other minister's appointment. Come on, Brother Taylor; don't think any one will be in your way, and hope you can have a good meeting.

Willie Harris is the fireman at Gus Funk's mill. Although young in the cause he seems to prove a good one. It is hard to get men to work here at present.

John T. Webb and Charles Loyd started in last Saturday for a wrestle, and it is reported came to blows and Mr. Webb got the worst of the wrestle.

Sam Moss picked up and moved out of town last Thursday to Joseph Alcorn's farm, and his son, Wm. Moss, will move into his father's residence in the near future. It is said they will vacate the blacksmith shop at Sabula at once.

Understand that Wade Hampton, of Ohlman, in Reynolds County, is selling out his goods and chattels, preparatory to moving to Arizona, where his brother-in-law, J. M. Gowan, resides, and that Fred C. Kitchell will follow suit in the spring.

James Moss of Des Arc, Missouri, is building him a blacksmith shop near his home, and has made application to Ed Moss to come down and do the ingenuity parts in the shop.

Barrie Loyd is reported to be no better and in a too bad a condition to ever recover again.

C. Mann is in town this (Monday) morning on business.

Mrs. Fanny Reese is still running the Annapolis Hotel, and has some lovely waiters and cooks; Mrs. Jennie Hubbard and Mrs. Pearl Talley, both grass widows. Mr. Frank Hubbard is in Texas for the past three years and Mr. James Talley is down below near Vulcan, Mo., and for my life I cannot see what these men want to live apart from such fine, nice, delicate women as any man could wish to see. Mrs. Hubbard is intending to go to Texas some time next week if he sends money for her to go on, and Mrs. Pearl Talley deserves a happy future.

John Thomas, of St. Louis, is in Annapolis this morning. He is the son-in-law of F. C. Warnock, of near Annapolis. John has been having hard luck for the past three years. First, a tree fell on his wife and she has been in the hospital at St. Louis the most of her time. Now he has a child, brought down here to keep it out of the hospital, sick with pneumonia. It is at the Annapolis Hotel and is reported to be improving.

Several young men and boys on a whiz Saturday night, and some had to be carried in home to keep them from freezing.

Roads are good and solid these days, as if concreted in a rough manner for the purpose. BULLETIN.

Overcoats at a great reduction at Brown's.

Bellevue News.

Mrs. R. E. Johnston returned last Sunday from a three months' visit to relatives in Los Angeles, Calif.

The two weeks revival at the Methodist Church closed last Sunday evening. It was a great meeting. The spirituality of all the churches in town was beautiful. While there were but ten or twelve conversions, they were, for the most part, men and women whose influence counts for something.

Rev. Hargrave won his way into the hearts of the people by the simplicity and practicability of his sermons, and seemed almost as loath to leave as were the people to have him go.

Miss Leona Wood asks us to state that the Enterprise of last week was false in the announcement that she is married. Somebody in the West End went too far with their joke.

Rev. Newton Smith, of Caledonia, did not fill the pulpit of the Presbyterian church last Sunday, but he and his people attended the service at the Methodist church.

The Angelites—a club of girls organized for the purpose of meeting in each others' homes for social chat and to learn and do fancy work—enjoyed a sumptuous dinner at the home of Miss Ethel Parker last Sunday.

Goodwater Items.

We are now in the midst of another cold spell, with the ground covered with snow and ice.

I wish to correct two mistakes I made in my letter to this paper a week ago. I should have said that Mr. F. M. Mayberry died January 7th, and that he left three daughters, instead of two.

Judge Scott, who has been sick for the past two weeks, is rapidly improving.

Mrs. James Payne is very low, with but little chance of recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Carl attended the funeral of Rev. Geo. W. Love at Belgrade last week. The deceased lived here a number of years and was a good man.

Messrs. Mann Compton of Potosi and Lewis Johnson of Belgrade were here Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lucas returned from Louisiana last Thursday, where they had gone to buy a farm for which they paid $10,000.

The good people expect to organize a Sunday School here next Sunday. Mrs. Sam Crocker is able to be up again.

Dr. Donahoe of Dillard was here last week on medical business.

Mrs. J. H. Whitte has been real sick for the past two weeks.

Otto Mayberry returned to Desloge last Sunday where he expects to work.

The following filed bids for carrying the mail from Goodwater to Warren's Store; James Payne, (the present contractor), J. H. Whitte, Claud Carl, W. W. Abbott and Ed. Miller.

L. W. S.

Special price on Sweaters at Brown's.

Happy Hollow News.

There isn't much doing in Happy Hollow this week. The weather has been very bad and cold.

The Baptist folks had a fine meeting at Grab Town last week. There are about 40 conversions.

The Methodist folks have been planning for a meeting at Brunot for some time, but failed to have it. I think they're afraid the golden wedge will be found.

Chas. Lovelace returned to his home near Brunot, a short time ago. He was clerking in a hotel in the south. He said that times were so hard that he quit his job, but that's the way all Republicans talk when they get tired.

The barber at Brunot has been doing good business.

L. G. Lovelace is dealing in chickens altogether.

W. J. Russell is doing the best business in Brunot.

Mr. Will Hunter has been on the puny list for the past week with the usual cold but is improving.

If any one needs any assistance on the line of blacksmithing, call on Henry Hovis at Brunot.

Mr. P. B. Hinkles has been very ill but is improving. We are glad of his recovery, for he is one of our best Methodist Church members.

In Memoriam.

Died—At her home, near Redmondville, Mo., on Friday, January 8th, 1915, Lucinda Litteral Brummet, aged 86 years, two months and twenty-five days. She was born in Russell county, Kentucky, and was united in marriage to Jasper Brummet, September 15, 1865. They came to Iron county about 1871, living here most of the time. She is the mother of ten children, three sons and seven daughters. There were only three left to mourn her departure. They are: Mrs. Gertrude Lovell, of Marshall, Ill.; Mrs. Cora Mayfield, of Redmondville, and Phelen Brummet, of Edgehill. She also leaves fifteen grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends.

She had been a member of the church for the last thirty years; a member of the Mt. Pleasant Church for nine years.

We feel that she will be sadly missed by all. She had suffered with rheumatism for several years. Dr. F. E. Stafford of Boss, Mo., was the attending physician. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to her husband and children.

A loved one from us is gone, A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled.
